

-1809-189118571853-1870

Adolphe Yvon, Baron Haussmann, 1867, Musée Carnavalet – History of Paris.

Adolphe Yvon, Napoléon III Giving Haussmann the Decree for the Annexation of Adjacent Towns to Paris on February 16th, 1859, 1865, Musée Carnavalet.

Construction of the avenue de l'Opéra.

The Transformation of Paris during the Second Empire and at the Beginning of the Third Republic

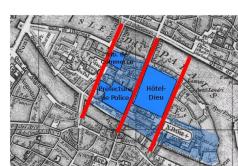

Camille Pissarro, Avenue de l'Opéra, 1898, Reims Museum of Fine Arts.

The Parvis de Notre-Dame, place Jean-Paul II.

The medieval Île de la Cité before the Haussmann

The Île de la Cité, in the center of Paris, transformed by Haussmann: in blue, the new boulevards; in red, the remaining medieval structures.

Haussmann building façade,

Gustave Caillebotte, Paris Street;

Confetti battle on the Parisian boulevards, 1896.

Boulevard Haussmann, lined with typical Haussmann buildings.

renovation (Vaugondy map, 1771).

red, new transverse streets; in light blue, new public spaces; in dark blue, new buildings.
place Saint Georges, Paris.

Rainy Day, 1877, Art Institute of Chicago.